PEACE FOREVER NOW DECLARED

Between Tuck Chew and Makee Sugar
Company.

AFTER LEGAL SPARRING
FOR FIVE YEARS PAST

How Newly Discovered Evidence Dissipated a Mystery that Had a Slight Odor of Fraud.

A celebrated controversy, one technically named in the judicial records a "case" ended for all time is not eternity this morning. It was that of Tuck Chew against Makee Sugar Co., being a controversy over leasehold rights. The plaintiff is a rice planter, the defendant Col. Z. S. Spalding's rich sugar plant operating at Keolu. As the first document appearing in the Circuit Court files today, a discontinuance of the case signed by J. T. De Bolt, attorney for plaintiff, and Kinney, Ballou & McClanahan, attorneys for defendant, reads as follows:

"Now come the parties to the above entitled action by their respective counsel, and, in consideration of the mutual settlement and satisfaction of their respective claims and contentions as set forth in the declaration or complaint filed herein by plaintiff and also as set forth in the answer and counter-claim filed herein by defendant, said action, declaration or complaint, answer and counter-claim are hereby forever discontinued.

"This action was begun in the Circuit Court of the First Circuit of the Republic of Hawaii, returnable at the August 1897 term thereof.

Judge A. W. Carter presided at the first trial, when the jury returned a verdict for plaintiff for $29,844.20 damages, and he granted a motion for a new trial on the ground that the damages were excessive. At the December term of the Supreme Court following Judge Carter was sustained. A. G. M. Robertson and C. Creighton were originally the attorneys for plaintiff, and Kinney, Ballou & McClanahan for defendant.

Five years have elapsed, but the new trial ordered has never been reached.

The defendant entered a bill in equity to restrain Tuck Chew from proceeding with his suit, some most important evidence having been newly discovered. A mysterious discrepancy had been revealed at the trial between the two originals of the lease, held by either party, duly signed by both parties though they were. It was found that the document held by the Makee Sugar Co. contained a clause which was not in that held by Tuck Chew. This discrepancy looked bad for the defendant, counsel for plaintiff hammering the presumable fraud home.

However, the newly discovered evidence cleared up the mystery. A man returned from China one day, at a critical juncture in this history, who had formerly been Chinese interpreter for the Makee Sugar Co. This man heard of the controversy and, evidently being no friend of Tuck Chew, hurried to Kinney & Ballou's office with a revelation that put a new face on the case. It appeared that Tuck Chew was detected selling rice off the leasehold without the knowledge of Makee Sugar Co. and contrary to the mutual understanding between the parties. W. Blaisdell, then field manager for Makee Sugar Co., called Tuck Chew to the office and secured his assent to an amendment of the lease, consisting of a clause binding Tuck Chew not to dispose of any of the rice crop without the consent of Makee Sugar Co. A page of the typewritten lease was rewritten to insert the new clause. Mr. Blaisdell retaining his copy thus altered and remarking to Tuck Chew in pure pidgin English with Hawaiian trimmings, "Bimeby you bring all-same your lease and we change it like pu." Tuck Chew never brought his copy to be changed, but had it in court with a prima facie aspect of its being the genuine copy.

"There has been nothing but sparring since the order for a new trial was given." W. A. Kinney replied to a reporter who asked him this morning what damages were awarded on the second presumed occasion. He went on to relate an outline of proceedings from the first Supreme Court decision, which has been substantially reproduced in the foregoing narrative.

Tuck Chew, in the original suit, claimed $100,000 damages.

The suit states further that $147 is due on a promissory note given by defendants to plaintiff on July 19, 1900, by which promissory note defendants agreed to pay plaintiff $200 in sixteen months from the last mentioned date. The Literary committee for the Fourth of July celebration held a meeting yesterday when the general program of the literary exercises was outlined. The exercises will be similar to those held previous years. There will be three short speeches interspersed with patriotic vocal and instrumental music. Owing to the Fourth falling in the vacation period some changes may be necessary on account of musicians being out of town. ## Government Officials MUST REFRAIN FROM Offensive Partisanship

Governor Dole was asked by a Bulletin reporter this morning whether or not the rumor was correct that an executive order had been promulgated to forbid government officials from taking an active part in politics.

"We considered the matter the other day," the Governor replied, "but did not settle details very definitely. It was agreed, however, to follow the lines of the announcement made some time ago by President Roosevelt regarding Federal officials."

The reporter mentioned his having seen a circular to officials posted in Federal offices here, and Governor Dole continued:

"The idea is that a government official must not use the power and prestige of his office in partisan politics. He is to be neutral in the suggestion that acting on campaign committees, making party speeches, etc., were tabooed.

"The rule would not prevent an official from being a member of a precinct club."

"Oh, no; I should not think it would go so far as that," was the answer. It was learned, partly from heads of departments after the Governor was seen, that orders have been communicated to subordinates, informally, in accordance with the conclusions reached in the executive council.

This will complete the paralleling of the Hawaiian Tramways Company's tracks clear through from Kalili to Wai-kihi turn.

The decision of the Executive only requires the signature of the Superintendent of Public Works to give it effect. More litigation may be taken for granted as inevitable. Superintendent Boyd said to a reporter, who asked him about the decision, "I will give my signature and let them fight it out in the courts."

THISTLE CLUB TO HAVE BIG PICNIC

The merry Scotchmen of the Thistle Club are at present busy making elaborate arrangements for their annual Fourth of July picnic. The excursion will take place on the Moanalua grounds of Hon. S. M. Damon, who has kindly offered the club the use of both the grounds and the pavilion.

Although the arrangements for the affair have not been definitely made as yet, it is probable that the Scotchmen will proceed from the city to the place of the revel in brakes as they did last year.

Once arrived upon the scene, all sorts of merriment will be indulged in. The members of the club are nearly all sportsmen and all sorts of manly exercises will be indulged in. There will be Scotch sports and games, putting the stone, tug-of-war contests, hammer throws, races, etc.

Later on in the evening there will be dancing in the pavilion, a string band supplying the music.

The picnicers will take with them plenty of good things to eat as well as some of the cheer for which Scotland is famous and every Scotch heart in town is now looking forward to a day to be spent pleasantly with sports, song and dance.

THEIR SILVER WEDDING

MR. AND MRS. LILIKALANI
WERE MADE VERY HAPPY

Presents from Church Given in Basement of Kawaiahao—Fine Silver Headed Cane and Money.

The Sunday school room in the basement of Kawaiahao church was the scene of a very happy gathering last night, at which happy people in the place being Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Lilikalani, whose silver anniversary was the occasion of the social.

The actual festivities began at about 8 o'clock. The room was beautifully decorated with magnolias and lilies, the former flowers coming from Lunalilo Home. Previous to calling the meeting to order, Miss Hattie Alau played several selections on the piano, which kept the large audience in a good frame of mind until the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Lilikalani, the guests of the evening.

When these two highly respected Hawaiians and conscientious church workers appeared on the scene and took their places in the Ewa end of the room, there was applause and congratulations were offered.

Rev. H. H. Parker arose and, in a few well chosen words, stated the reason for the gathering and welcomed all in the name of Kawaiahao church. David A. L., the assistant pastor, next arose and presented to Mr. Lilikalani a silver topped cane made out of a piece of lehua wood taken from the church itself. In his very happy and well delivered presentation speech, he dwelt on the passage from the wooden to the tin and thence on to the silver wedding, expressing the hope, in conclusion, that the couple would reach their golden wedding amidst just as happy surroundings as those of their silver wedding.

Mr. Lilikalani, always eloquent and equal to any occasion, expressed the thanks of himself and his wife for the honor conferred upon them. He had hardly taken his seat when Rev. Parker again arose and presented the couple with a beautiful plush bag in which was contained over a hundred silver dollars, contributions from members of the church and others interested in the welfare of the church. He said in conclusion that he would later on give him a list of the names of the people who had contributed to the bag in order that he might keep it as a souvenir.

The social then became more informal and each person in the room marched up to offer his or her congratulations. In the midst of these and while young ladies from Kawaiahao were passing around refreshments, Mr. Parker walked over to Mr. and Mrs. Lilikalani and presented them with a silver tray on which were a water pitcher, a sugar bowl and a cream pitcher of the same metal, constituting another present from the church.

Among those present at the silver wedding festivities were: Rev. H. H. Parker, Rev. David A. L., Hon. and Mrs. Samuel Parker, Mrs. L. A. Coney, Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Westervelt, G. P. Casle, Mrs. Wilcox, Mrs. Auld, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dwight, Mrs. Wilcox, and the aged mother of Mr. Lilikalani. It might be stated in passing that to Mrs. Lily Auld and Rev. H. H. Parker are due the success of last evening's happy time.

While refreshments were being served young native girls and boys alternated in the singing of beautiful Hawaiian airs.

INTERESTING CASE IN JUDGE WILCOX'S COURT

Shaky Wall of Building on Nuuanu Street to Be Pulled Down and Rebuilt Very Soon.

Pang Chong, the Chinaman who has charge of the putting up of certain buildings at the mauka and makai, Ewa corners of Nuuanu and Beretania streets, appeared in the Police Court this forenoon on the charge of failing to secure permits for the erection of the buildings mentioned. Attorney F. M. Brooks appeared for the defense and Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth for the prosecution. The defendant declined to plead and a plea of not guilty was entered by the court.

Maraton Campbell, Assistant Superintendent of Public Works, was the first witness placed on the stand by the prosecution. His testimony was to the effect that along in the early part of May, Pang Chong did file an application for the building at the mauka. Ewa corner but that, instead of following up the matter, the defendant allowed it to lapse and began the erection of this and another building of like proportions without securing the requisite permits. Constant demand had been made on the defendant but he refused to comply with the regulations.

Fire Chief Thurston was the next witness. His testimony was the same, in effect, as that given by Mr. Campbell. He said he did not have a permit and, although urged time and again to secure one, Pang Chong failed to show up and do as he was told.

No defense was put on and Attorney
